

EPILEPSY YORK REGION

EPILEPSY YORK REGION is a charitable organization which:

- Advocates on behalf of individuals with seizure disorders;
- Promotes public awareness of epilepsy and seizure disorders;
- Develops programs based on the needs of our constituents; and
- Provides educational resources and opportunities.

Epilepsy York Region is a non-profit, community-based multi-service agency. Founded in 1988, it now provides support, education and advocacy to an estimated 7,300 to 14,600 people with epilepsy and their families in York Region.

The agency exists because we strongly believe that we can make positive changes and provide a supportive environment for those living with epilepsy and seizure disorders. We believe that we can achieve the support needed through our efforts of public education and awareness. We recognize the need to reduce every kind of isolation or stigma and provide opportunities for people with this condition to stay in the mainstream, learn how to self-advocate, learn what good medical care consists of and what their options are. We feel strongly about giving them opportunities to meet and support one another and achieve an increased level of control of already compromised lives.
